Dear Parent/ Carer,

Parents Online Safety Videos – Weekly Series

Online safety is an enormously important aspect of our children's education. Within school, we deliver lessons that teach children about many aspects of staying safe online. For example, within a wide-ranging curriculum, we discuss who to talk to if they see something which makes them uncomfortable, using effective passwords and how to behave appropriately online.

Of course, many children spend time online at home.

In order to support you with helping your child have positive online experiences, we have purchased a series of videos created by Alan Mackenzie -an online safety expert (<https://www.esafety-adviser.com/>).

Initially, over the next few weeks, we shall be sending links to videos about different aspects of online safety. In addition, we anticipate running other events to share information and support around this area. It is important to note that these videos contain content which is not appropriate for children to see. However, we believe that it is vital for all the adults involved with children's upbringing to have up-to-date information.

Yours sincerely,

Mr D Ainscow and Mr L Murphy
